On Metro Plaza plans

Troutt doesn't share sunny outlook

Despite the optimism of developers planning the proposed multi-million dollar Romulus Metro Plaza, Mayor Terry L. Troutt isn't particularly pleased with their progress.

Troutt is disappointed that the planning for the project has taken so long, and that no actual building has begun. He recalls early last fall when the plaza plans were unveiled in a gala ceremony, how he and others assured everyone the project would be structurally underway by spring.

Spring will be here in about a month, but chances appear slim that the plaza will be on its way up by then. In fact, the possibility exists that it may not become a reality at all.

"I don't want to say it's going to be, and I don't want to say it's not going to be," the mayor said. "I understand that obtaining the land is the problem. The main problem before was financing, but I guess that has been cleared up."

"When the money is laid down on the land and the permits are bought, then we'll know we're moving."

Troutt added that the city can't wait much longer for definite progress on the project.

"I've met with all the people involved, including the (senior citizens') high rise developers, mall and court-house people," he continued. "And I set a date by which the project must be under way substantially.

"If it isn't by then, we'll build it ourselves. The city can't sit here waiting forever."

Troutt would not say what the date is, but said it is not intended to be a "deadline," but more of a target date. The entire $20 million, 75-acre project, as originally planned, included a senior citizens high-rise apartment complex, a shopping mall, convention center, bank, 34th District Court building and medical clinic.

The clinic reportedly has been scratched from the plans.

Everything but the convention center is to be built by private concerns. The city will foot the bill for that, but no commitments on the center will be made until the rest of the project definitely is on the rise.

"The city has agreed that if the mall, high rise, court and bank proceed, then we'll go with the auditorium (convention center)," Troutt said.

The mayor added that the lag in the progress came as a surprise.

"A few months ago we thought it really was moving," he continued. "Then it bogged down. I guess there are too many technical things to take care of."

He said the city particularly is concerned about the high-rise complex.

"We've committed ourselves to it," he said. "That is something we need very much. If it doesn't materialize, we'll have to look elsewhere."

The plaza complex is scheduled to be built on the west side of Wayne Road north of I-94.

Troutt added that the same commitment holds for a new courthouse, which he said is needed badly.

Regarding the shopping mall, Troutt continued: "Another company is interested in building a small shopping center in the city. If the big one (the mall) dies, the smaller one may come in."

"No matter what, we intend to have senior citizens and shopping facilities," he assured.

Stewart calls for study of sheriff patrol service

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Jim Stewart necessarily isn't in favor of Romulus forming its own police force again, but the city councilman does have some reservations about renewing the city's contract for police protection with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The city's 5-year contract with the department will expire in mid-1976, and notice must be given at least one full year in advance if the city does not wish to renew the pact, Stewart said.

The councilman said he sees some areas of the department's service to Romulus which are lacking and wants to take a close look at the operation before he votes to renew or terminate the contract.

"I think the biggest problem has been a lack of communication between the citizens and sheriff's deputies," Stewart said. "They (citizens) weren't being communicated back to by the department as to where, for instance, a burglary case stood.

"Because the contract is coming up for renewal, now is the time to evaluate the sheriff's services. By giving them a 1-year notice, if we decided to terminate the contract, it would give us a chance to establish our own police department."

However, the senior elected official on the City Council admitted that forming a police department would be extremely difficult and not a wise step to take.

Until three years ago, when Romulus Township became a city, the township had its own force. When that was terminated, all of its equipment, including automobiles, and uniforms, also was disposed of, he said.

So the costs of starting another force would be too prohibitive, admits Stewart and other city officials.

Nonetheless, Stewart wants to be sure the city's annual payment of "about $900,000" for the sheriff's patrol service is well used.

"I haven't heard many complaints about the service," he admitted. "But I haven't been too happy about it either. In the next week or two I'll get a first-hand view by visiting the department to see if our four cars are being utilized best."

Four 1-man sheriff's patrol cruisers continually are in Romulus during the daytime and four 2-man cars cruise the city at night, said Insp. Richard M. Novak, head of the sheriff's patrol in Romulus detail.

In addition, two detectives and a juvenile officer do fulltime duty in the city.

Stewart made his dissenting views about the sheriff's service known at a meeting between city officials and representatives of the department last week.

Stewart questions the patrol's contention that four cars always are in the city.

"I have a police radio, and once when there was a call in Romulus I couldn't hear four cars being called," he said. "I just questioned the fact that we have four cars here all of the time, but they assured me they did."

"Maybe we are getting what we're paying for, but before I say 'yes, the service is all right,' or 'no, it isn't,' I would have to evaluate it."

Novak is the first person Stewart will have to contend with.

"The service we give Romulus now is the best any city could get," Novak said. "I'm satisfied that the things we are doing in that city are right. We're not infallible, but overall the law enforcement in Romulus is second to none."

"If the mayor and council saw fit that it wasn't, they would get rid of our service."

Novak suggested that any citizens who have a complaint about the patrol service "let me know."

"But for anybody to say that we're not doing our jobs is wrong," he continued. "Remember, there's two sides to every story, and then there's the facts."

Board punishes students for drug policy violation

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Roman Staff

Four of six Romulus Senior High School students, charged by school officials with violating the school district's policy on drugs, have received severe penalties following special hearings before the Romulus Board of Education.

A fifth student's case was disposed of when the Board of Education found the student had moved out of the school district, following a suspension and pending the hearing. The sixth student's case is up for decision by the Board of Education this week. Two of the students suspended since last Thursday were given extensions of three additional weeks while the other two were excluded from school for the rest of the year. They will be permitted to reapply for admission to school after June 30, according to Romulus School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy.

'The district has had a number of known drug cases...'

In commenting on the problem of student-related drug cases, McConeghy said the district has had a lessening in the number of known drug cases in the high school because of the strict enforcement by the Board of Education of the district's student conduct and discipline code as it relates to unlawful use, sale, possession of drugs and alcohol.

In March 1973, the Board of Education adopted:

"The policy of the Board of Education of the Romulus Community Schools prohibits the unlawful possession, sale, use or consumption by students under the jurisdiction of the Romulus Community Schools (in transit to or from school, at school activities, on school premises) of any 'controlled substance' as defined by the Michigan Controlled Substances Act of 1971, such as heroin, lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD), methadone, marijuana and other related drugs." The policy also prohibits alcoholic beverages.

Under the policy, offenders, after being notified of the reasons for their suspensions, will be barred from school for a specified period of time.

In the event the suspending official intends to recommend expulsion of the student, the student after being notified of the reasons for his suspension immediately would be suspended from school pending a hearing before the Board of Education.

Chilly dive

A Wayne County Sheriff's Department skindiver (sitting) readies himself for a dive into 40 feet of ice cold water at a gravel quarry in Romulus. The diver, assisted by other members of the department's Underwater Rescue Division, was embarking on a mission to locate a stolen truck in the icy water. His dive was perilous by six inches of ice which covered the water, but nonetheless proved successful. For more pictures, turn to page 3. —The Romulus Roman photo.

City reveals no plans for 1976 observances

If Romulus intends to join the bandwagon of communities celebrating the nation's 200th birthday in 1976, that intent hasn't been announced.

And the longer the city waits to begin a Bicentennial program, the further behind it will be in planning.

Indications are that no one has been designated as the coordinator of Romulus' Bicentennial efforts, although some persons said they thought others were handling it.

According to City Council President Beverly McAnally, no official Bicentennial program designation has been made, but it was her understanding that City Librarian Diane Hazen was in charge.

"Nobody's said anything to me about that," countered Miss Hazen.

"I said I would write a letter to the State Bicentennial Commission for details on organizing a Bicentennial here, but I haven't been able to do that yet," she added.

Miss Hazen, however, said, she does have several ideas for the celebration which the library could be helpful with.

"I suggest we organize an oral history of the city by having our older citizens talk on tape for people to listen to," she continued. "There is just no well-researched written history of Romulus, but just a collection of short documents."

She said the Wayne Historical Museum houses many Romulus historical artifacts.

"Something else we need is a historical society," she added.

Still another suggestion she makes is for the library to do a history of itself.

Most area communities planning Bicentennial celebrations have plans underway and are applying for state funds set aside for Bicentennial programs in communities.

Burglary ring suspect draws prison sentence

A 25-year-old Romulus man believed to be the kingpin in an area wide burglary and stolen firearms peddling ring has been sentenced to 1½ to 2½ years imprisonment after being convicted of carrying a concealed weapon.

Bruce Anthony Burdwood, who Wayne County Sheriff's Department detectives said has no fixed address in Romulus, but "moves around" within the city, was sentenced in 34th District Court by Judge James B. Stone last week.

Burdwood is awaiting sentencing on two other convictions, including a narcotics charge and aggravated assault. Those cases are pending in.

Burdwood was transferred to Jackson State Prison.

Detectives believe Burdwood is the key figure in a burglary ring which specializes in stealing firearms, then sells the weapons to several "fences," or dealers.

A detective said authorities are seeking those dealers.

A 1974 van, believed to be one stolen by Burdwood for use in the burglary ring, was recovered last week from 40 feet of water at a gravel quarry in Romulus.

The Ford van camper valued between $7,000 and $8,000, was stolen from a Westland resident, John M. Thorp, 924 S. John Hix Road, on Nov. 20, 1974.

The detective said the van apparently was stolen for the purpose of removing the windshield to replace a broken one on Burdwood's van. After the windshield on the Thorp van was taken, the truck apparently was dumped into the water.

Hearing scheduled

BELLEVILLE — The administration of the City of Belleville has called a third public hearing for residents' input in the preparation of the city's application for funds allocated under the federally-sponsored Community Block Grant Program of the Community Development Act of 1974. The hearing will be held Feb. 18.

Talks to focus on new park

The pros and cons of a plan to develop the city's fourth major park, complete with lighted tennis and basketball courts and baseball diamonds, will be discussed at a Romulus Recreation Commission public hearing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The hearing will be in the City Hall Council Chambers.

The proposed park would be developed on 12.7 acres of land along Cogswell Road near Walnut Drive, adjacent to a proposed industrial park.

The city is applying for a state grant through the Department of Natural Resources to pay for half of the expected $210,000 cost of developing the park, said city spokesman Gary Bingamen.

The amount received from the state would be "matched" by the city, he added.

Bingamen said the deadline for applying for the grant is

March 1, but the city probably won't know if its application is approved until about May.

"If it is granted, we'll draw up the specifications for the park, put them out for bids and start immediately on the development," he continued.

Bingamen estimated the project would take about three months to complete.

Recovery mission succeeds

After being found by Sheriff's Department divers in 40 feet of water in a Romulus gravel quarry, a stolen van is hauled to the surface by a wrecker amid snowflurries. Above, the van breaks through the 6-inch thick ice before coming to rest against the side of the quarry (center). The bottom photo shows the battered van being pulled up and over a 4-foot "cliff" bounding the quarry. The van was believed stolen by members of a burglary ring operating in Western Wayne County, then dumped into the quarry north of Wick Road east of Wayne Road. — The Romulus Roman photos.

Governor toys with value added tax

Gov. William G. Milliken and his advisers have been toying for several years with the idea of a value added tax for Michigan. His proposal for a new "business income tax" isn't a value added tax in the European sense, but it's pretty close.

The idea of a single tax on business to replace five different levies was the major new proposal in the governor's budget message to the Legislature. It accompanied the news that an 18 percent increase will be needed in the personal income tax to make up for money lost in the repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs by voters last November.

Under the European idea, a value added tax is a tax on the difference between what the raw materials used in a product cost and what the finished product is sold for — in other words, a tax on the value-added by the firm. A manufacturer who sells a product for $10 and who uses goods which cost $3 to make it pays a tax on the $7 difference.

The governor and his aides have put forth a plan that is pretty close to that. The main difference is the allowance of a 100 percent credit for all capital expansion.

Budget director Jerry Miller said it is expected the tax rate will be about two percent if adopted to make up for the money lost through repeal of five other taxes. The five are the corporate income tax, the corporation franchise fee, the financial institutions income tax, the business portion of the intangibles and personal income taxes and the inventory tax levied by local government.

That two percent will be applied to a figure derived by taking the gross income of a firm, subtracting the raw material costs of the firm and subtracting all capital investments during the year. There will be no depreciation of assets over a number of years.

If a business put up a new building or bought a new machine during the year, the whole cost is deducted on that year's tax bill.

The idea should mean fewer taxes for such capital intensive businesses as public utilities, who have to spend billions on new facilities. It will mean stiffer taxes for law firms and doctors' offices — firms providing services with no raw materials and no capital expenditures, except for an office building.

The idea also will mean a much more stable tax base for the state than one based on profits. As the sales tax provides a steady income in good and bad years, so would a tax based on sales of businesses rather than on their profits.

Milliken also said it would mean a better business climate for Michigan by encouraging capital expansion.

As far as the budget he proposed is concerned, it has earned the description "tight" because it represents an increase in state spending of less than seven percent, compared to a national inflation rate of around 12 percent last year.

The governor has handed Democratic legislators, who control both houses, a document they will be hard pressed to cut any further.

There will be a lot of posturing by legislators on all sides in the next few months as they agonize over the income tax increase and decide whether they want to make it bigger or smaller. For the moment, it's plain the governor has given them a lot to chew on.

As they see it

Residents satisfied with park

To The Editor: While we would like to see the attached letter printed in the Enterprise-Roman, for obvious reasons we do not wish to have our name and address printed. Instead, we'd be grateful if you could sign it "Satisfied Belle Villa Estates residents."

It has come to our attention that certain residents of Belle Villa Estates Mobile Park are trying to organize a tenants association to present all the residents of the park "to resolve their complaints with park management and to protect their investment."

We would like to let it be known that we have no complaints or grievances against either the park management or the owners. Before we moved into Belle Villa Estates, we read and signed our agreement to abide by the rules of the park. We knew then that we would not be allowed to have a dog or a cat for a pet. And we would not be able to drive a motorcycle through the park.

There were other rules that we agreed to about keeping our coach clean and using containers for rubbish and refraining from making car repairs on our parking pad. We're tries to keep these rules and have found living in Belle Villa Estates a satisfying experience.

It's true that our lawn could have used another feeding of fertilizer last summer, but the boys did keep it cut and trimmed and we continued to water it. (There were people in the park who let their grass burn up from lack of water, even though they were not responsible for the water bill.)

Also, for a while we worried about having someone available in the park to call after office hours in an emergency. We understand this situation has been corrected and to be on the safe side, we have added the phone numbers of the Belleville Police and Fire Department to our list of emergency numbers.

We see no need for a tenants' association at this time. If we have a question or a problem, we take it directly to management and never have been disappointed.

Satisfied Belle Villa Estates residents

At right time

Milliken always says the right thing

One of the reasons for Gov. William G. Milliken's continued popularity in Michigan has been his uncanny ability to never say the wrong thing at the wrong time.

Whether he is planning a speech or answering questions, the governor always, yes always, has said only what he wanted to say when he wanted to say it. He has never been tripped up by questioning and he always knows exactly in what form he wants to make things public.

For example, let's look at his performance over the last three years in announcing tax plans. In two of those years he has proposed tax cuts. In one year — this year — he has proposed a tax increase.

It turns out that both tax cut proposals were announced in the governor's State of the State speech. That speech is delivered to a joint session of the Legislature and is the most widely covered event of the year in the Capitol.

Every television station sends a news team to cover it, and since a proposed tax cut always is newsworthy, the governor gets statewide television exposure coming out for tax cuts.

But this year it was different. This year the governor had to propose a tax increase. So, for the first time in three years, the specifics waited until the budget message he sends to the Legislature. He doesn't read that. It just shows up on their desks one morning.

In the State of the State speech, the only mention he made was when he said he would send along his budget later in the month "along with my specific proposal for offsetting the revenue being lost because of the removal of the sales tax on food and drugs."

Notice, not one use of the phrase "tax increase" could be filmed or recorded.

Equally as important is the way the governor described the tax changes.

Two years ago he proposed "broad-based tax relief in the amount of $370 million over the next two fiscal years" and spelled it all out in his State of the State speech. All the details were there.

One year ago in the state speech he called for tax cuts of "$107 million over a 2-year period beginning during the next fiscal years." Again, all the details were included.

But this year the proposals for some reason weren't ready to be given in the statewide covered speech. And when they finally popped up in the budget message, they came in a different form.

"I am recommending that the personal income tax rate be increased from 3.9 percent to 4.6 percent effective May 1, 1975," he said.

In the next paragraph he added that the proposal would mean an additional $220 million for the next fiscal year.

In announcing tax cuts, the governor had explained what they would mean over the next two years in terms of total dollars. But nowhere in his budget did he talk about $440 million or more over a two year period.

There is one more aspect to this. The governor's staff continues to refer to the tax as a .7 percent increase. It's true that the increase in the rate of taxable income taken will rise by .7 percent. But the actual percentage increase in the amount paid to the state will be 18 percent. The taxpayer who paid $39 for every $1,000 of taxable income in the past would pay $46 if the governor's plan went into effect.

It has been this way all along in politics. In 1971 when the governor signed a 50 percent income tax increase, he did it in the quiet of his office and left town before the signing was announced. In 1973 and 1974 when signing tax cut bills, he did it with large ceremonies with many smiling legislators in his office.

The odds are that when the latest tax increase does become law, it won't be done with ceremonies and smiling legislators.

Bad for the image, you know.

To avoid political backlash

Administrators, congressmen maneuver

Members of the Republican Ford administration and the democratically-controlled Congress already have begun to maneuver to avoid the political backlash that could result if South Vietnam falls to the communists.

Two questions spotlight the issue. Whose fault will it be if the South Vietnamese go down the drain? Does the American public care any more whether the communists take over South Vietnam?

President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger have told House and Senate leaders of both parties that if the United States allows the Saigon government to be overwhelmed the shock will be felt throughout the non-communist world. The credibility of American promises to help other beleaguered nations resist aggression will be thrown into doubt.

That argument has been played as a trump card by Ford and Kissinger. Still that line of reasoning has a hollow ring to many members of the House and Senate.

They recalled that the same argument has been put forward by every administration going back to President Eisenhower.

Nevertheless, after spending $150 billion, dispatching a million American troops and suffering more than 55,000 American dead, the Saigon government still is not out of the woods.

President Ford has asked Congress to earmark an additional $300 million in military supplies for South Vietnam and $222 million for Cambodia this year. The money would be used to help both countries replace weapons and obtain more ammunition.

"I believe it will be very, very difficult to get Congress to approve the President's request," Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.) said. "That is my reading of the situation. Getting such legislation through Congress only could be regarded as a long shot possibility."

Griffin added that the administration originally asked for $1.4 billion for South Vietnam. Congress then authorized $1 billion but ultimately only appropriated $700 million. Thus, the $300 million request can be regarded as making up the difference.

At a recent news conference, Griffin said he realized how unpopular further involvement in Vietnam was with the American public.

Yet when American troops pulled out two years ago "we took on a moral commitment if not a legal one" to help the South Vietnamese defend themselves, Griffin added.

"There is a general feeling in Congress and in the country — a feeling I think is unfortunate — against providing Saigon with any further assistance," Griffin said.

The Paris Peace accords allow both the North and South Vietnamese to replenish their exhausted weapons and supplies on a 1-for-1 basis. Communist allies of the North Vietnamese have done much more than that for the Hanoi regime.

Griffin denied there was a matter of principle involved in opposing further American help for President Nguyen van Thieu's hard pressed South Vietnamese troops. Congress already has appropriated the $700 million, the Michigan senator said.

The whole issue might have been more clear cut, if Congress had refused to make any appropriation at all, he added.

As the political situation stands now President Ford and those members of Congress such as Griffin who generally support the White House on this issue run the risk of an adverse reaction from the American voters.

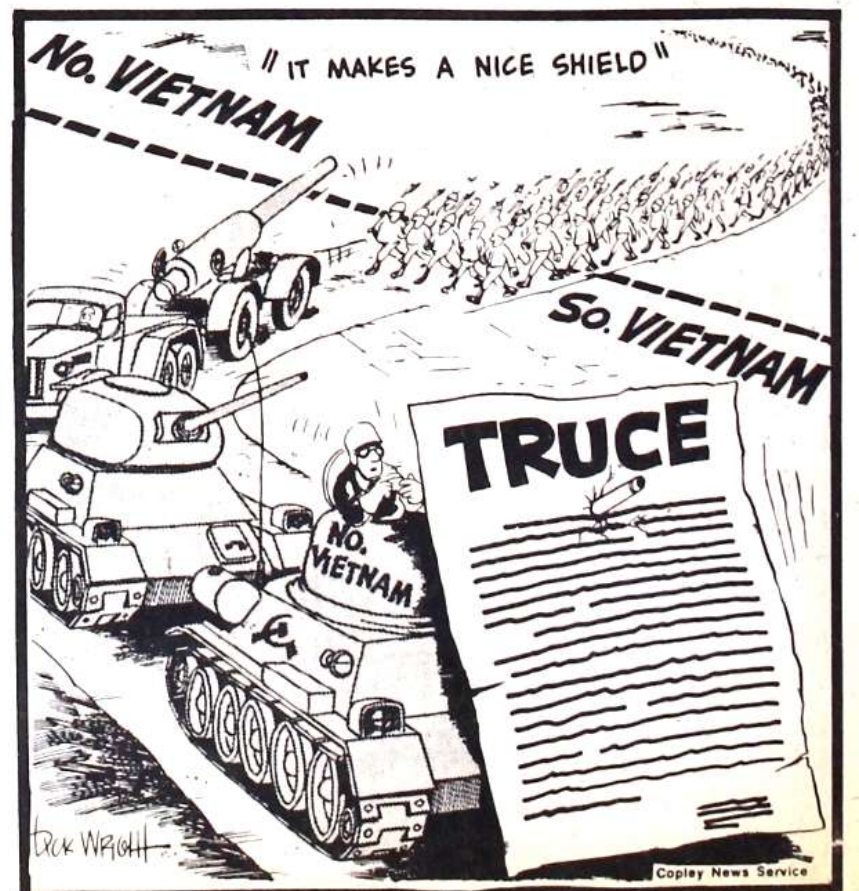

At the same time, those members of Congress who oppose Ford's request run a different risk but a very real one just the same. If South Vietnam falls, the White House will be able to point a finger of blame at those lawmakers, particularly the old doves on the democratic side.

In Van Buren

Planners pave way for auto dealership

The rezoning of a 32-acre land parcel to permit the construction of a new auto dealership and garage in Van Buren Township has received a recommendation for approval from the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission's recommendation was made after a public hearing on a rezoning petition filed by John Bowman of 768 Yarmouth, Birmingham, Mich. Bowman told the commission he wants to build a Chevrolet dealership on the land, which is located on the north side of the North Service Drive of I-94 south of DeWitt Road.

He said he had 662-foot frontage on the service drive and the land parcel was 2,262 feet deep. He added that he will have new cars, used cars and garage work on about 15 acres at the present time and would do nothing with the back half of the property. In addition, the property will be fenced in, he said.

Bowman also told the planners he would like to start work as soon as possible.

The site's present zoning is residential. Bowman requested a zoning classification change to highway business. There were no dissents to the rezoning at the public hearing.

Robert Monforton of 10620

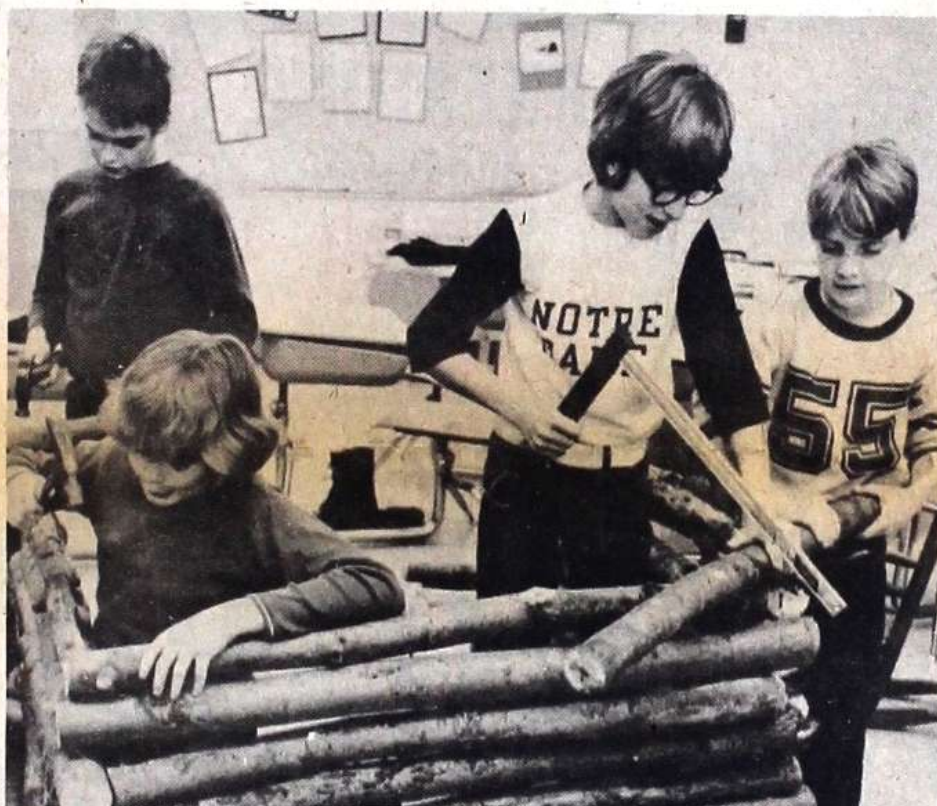

DeWitt Road said he was not opposed to the rezoning but wanted to know about the drain on the property involved. He added that it now was overflowing. He was told by the planners that matter would be taken care of by the township engineer when he reviews the site plans.

Kurt Atchinson of Atchinson Ford Sales Inc., of Belleville told the commission he was "all for" the rezoning and that he thought it was "great" that Bowman was building a Chevrolet dealership in this part of Belleville.

Campaign takes shape to raise center funds

An all-area fundraising campaign is being planned by Belleville's crisis intervention center, The Number.

Cathy Horste, newly-appointed fundraising chairman of The Number said the drive will begin in the very near future. Plans now are being formulated, she added.

With the recently acquired tax-exempt status granted

The Number by the Internal Revenue Service donors may deduct contributions to the center from their federal income tax.

In addition to cash donations, The Number's staff always is in need of office supplies, office furniture, radios, lamps, television sets and kitchen supplies, Mrs. Horste said.

Tax-exempt status was granted The Number, a non-profit group, on Jan. 21, largely through the efforts of Royce E. Smith, former Belleville mayor and now a member of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, according to Kathy Cavillo, director of The Number.

Lenten service to feature choir

The West Mound United Methodist Church of Taylor will begin its 1975 Lenten program with a special Ash Wednesday Holy Communion Service of Worship at 7:30 tonight.

This service will feature the sanctuary choir and a communion service using bread and vinegar to be received at a table in the altar area.

The vinegar will substitute for the wine in commemoration of the drink that was given Jesus as He hung upon the cross. He was given vinegar in answer to His words, "I Thirst."

"Upon ourselves we also take the cross and bear His burdens and begin a period of suffering with Him," The Rev. Robert Dobson, pastor, said.

On consecutive Thursday evenings there will be special mid-week Lenten services featuring guest pastors. Each service will be held at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by refreshments in the church narthex.

Preaching on Feb. 20 will be The Rev. Al Kauffman of St. Paul's United Church of Christ. On Feb. 27, Pastor Chu of the Transfiguration Lutheran Church will be the speaker and on March 6, The Rev. Michael Peterlin of the Manchester United Methodist Church will give the message.

The Rev. Charles Curtis of Christ the King Episcopal Church will preach on March 13 and The Rev. John Canovan of St. Constance Roman Catholic Church will preach the Lenten message on March 20.

On March 27, the final mid-week service will be a special full communion service with The Rev. Dobson preaching.

West Mound United Methodist Church is located at 22395 Eureka Road in Taylor.

Chamber chief cites sacrifice

During this time of recession and unemployment, there is much talk of needed belt-tightening. But the only cry that has gone up so far is for people to tighten their belts for the government.

This observation recently was made by Theodore F. Kuckelman, executive director of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

In the past, the American people have responded magnanimously with the sweat of their toil, but maybe the time has come when government should start doing some belt-tightening for the people, Kuckelman said.

He added that according to Washington reports, the average federal pay exceeds private pay by 46 percent. "Whose belt needs tightening?" Kuckelman asked.

The federal government for the last two years has overpaid federal employees by over a billion dollars per year, according to its own much discredited Federal Pay Comparability Survey, Kuckelman added.

The federal government in 1973 took $3.97 out of every $10 in income, leaving the recipient with only $6.03. Two years earlier, it took $3.75, leaving the recipient with $6.25, he concluded.

Passenger decrease seen at Metro in '74

Eighteen of Michigan's 21 airports with airline service had increases in passenger volumes during 1974, according to a report issued last week by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission.

But the number of passengers statewide was down due to a decline at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, which accounts for more than 75 percent of the total volume.

The total of passengers boarding and de-planing was 10,173,000 in 1973, compared to about 10,037,000 last year.

Aeronautics Commission director James D. Ramsey said passenger volumes largely reflect airline scheduling, which improved at several of the state's airports. More travelers also chose air travel over autos because of the higher cost of gasoline, fuel shortages and the nationwide 55-mile-an-hour speed limit set for highway travel during 1974.

Besides Detroit Metro, airports showing decreases were Ironwood, with 17,200 for a drop of one percent; and Manistee, with 6,669 for a drop of 1.3 percent.

4-H club names slate following first election

A Belleville area 4-H Club, the Rainbow 4-H Club, has elected its first slate of officers.

The club's first president is Debbie Gregg. Other officers are Tony Ostrowski, vice-president; Kathy Posegay, secretary; Karen and Anna Ostrowski, co-treasurers. Named assistant leaders were Betty Ostrowski and Mary Posegay.

The election of officers was announced at a meeting of the club recently held in the home of Judy Norris located on Sherwood Road in Sumpter Township.

The new 4-H Club meets on the second Wednesday of the month at the Norris home.

The club recently took a family trip to Cobo Hall in Detroit to see the Christmas show and the Polish exhibit.

Members receiving pins at the recent meeting of the club were Brian Norris, 1-year pin; Kathy Posegay, David Norris and Karen Ostrowski, 3-year pins; Debbie Gregg, Anna Ostrowski, Danny Gregg and Tony Ostrowski, 4-year pins. Club members currently are working on various projects for this year's 4-H Fair.

Faust proposes relief for seniors

Meeting today's inflated expenses with a fixed income based on yesterday's prices has placed a severe strain on the pocketbooks of many Western Wayne County senior citizens.

At least two of these expenses will be eliminated, though, if legislation introduced by Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, becomes law.

Faust has introduced two bills that would prohibit utility companies from requiring deposits from persons 62 years or older and permit persons 60 years or older to ride free on publicly-owned transportation systems.

"Everybody feels the bite of inflation," Faust said. "But nobody feels it more than our senior citizens."

"Many of them are living on social security or pensions that have not been increased to meet the skyrocketing cost of living," he continued. "These two bills, if enacted into law, would give our senior citizens a much needed financial break."

Faust's utility bill would prohibit all gas, electric and telephone companies from requiring a cash deposit unless the company could prove that the subscriber was a bad risk.

It would be up to the Public Service Commission to establish rules for determining a bad credit risk.

The free transportation bill would require every publicly-owned transportation facility to provide free service to persons:

— Sixty years or older, unmarried with an income of $3,000 or less per year.

— Sixty years or older, married whose annual income, when combined with his or her spouse, does not exceed $6,000.

"I am hopeful that the Legislature will give quick approval to these two measures," Faust said.

"Michigan's senior citizens have worked hard all their lives making this state a good place to live."

Awards given to Cub Scouts

A special awards ceremony was the highlight of the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 923, sponsored by Elwell Road Elementary School in Belleville.

Cub Scouts attending the year's first meeting were Larry Dellor, Keith Perkins, David Jacobs, Robert Laurence, Jim Bevard, Tom Hudge, Dennis Summers and Arnold Feguson. Also at the meeting were the parents of some of the pack members. The Cub Scouts receiving awards were: Larry Dellor who received his Second Class Scout pin, Sports and First Aid skill badges; and David Jacobs, who also was given a Second Class scout pin and a Safety merit badge.

Scoutmaster George Kennedy presented a scout pin to all the mothers who attended.

Officials support move to revitalize railroads

Two Michigan lawmakers have thrown their full weight behind a proposal by Gov. William G. Milliken to revitalize Michigan's decaying railroad network and simultaneously ease the state's unemployment problem.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin and Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, both Republicans, have communicated with Secretary of Commerce Frederick B.

Dent and Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan on the subject.

They urged the two cabinet members to act promptly on Milliken's request for $8 million in job development funds to create an estimated 300 jobs for trackage improvement in Michigan.

If the Ford Administration acted promptly enough some gandy dancers (track workers) could begin improving the roadbeds and laying new ties and rails by April 1.

Many rail lines in Michigan are in a poor state of repair. Griffin and Vander Jagt stressed that the industrial and agricultural economy of the state would receive a boost if these tracks were brought back to standard and rail safety would improve.

Crime prevention unit can roll on request

Detroit Metropolitan area police departments, including Belleville and Van Buren Township Police departments, have expressed enthusiasm about an opportunity for citizens to learn how to protect their families and homes against burglary and fire by visiting the Home Security Crime Prevention Show on Wheels.

This unique free exhibit, showing actual working models of every type of residential burglar alarm available today, plus several fire detection alarms, made its first Detroit area visit Feb. 10 at Northland Shopping Center.

The advantages and disadvantages of each type of alarm are described. The exhibit includes a comprehensive display of door and window locks demonstrating how to recognize good and bad ones. Many do-it-yourself suggestions are in the unit.

Showing of this unit is available to other selected groups free of charge on a pre-scheduled basis. Contact Ford-Rice & Associates of Detroit at 493-1330 for a showing of the unit.

Miracle in Belleville

By TOM MOORADIAN

Sixteen years have slipped past since Belleville High has won a league basketball championship. And that's a long, long time not to win anything. But second year coach Tom Niemi has been putting "things" into place and the long drought could end this year. He isn't talking about championships, even though his speedy Tigers knocked off the No. 1 ranked team in the area and in the Suburban 8 League.

Belleville jolted Plymouth Salem 66-59 and that victory plus seven others provided the Tigers with a share of first place. They haven't been there, atop of a league standing in this decade or the decade before, so people are asking what has Niemi done to this team to make it a contender.

"I think it comes down to one thing," said Niemi, last night. "It's pride."

"These kids have a lot of pride in themselves and in their school and they're working their heads off to win. And do you know what — the school, the fans, everyone is backing these kids up 100 percent."

TOM NIEMI

"Did you see that crowd last night, there was standing room only. When is the last time you've seen that around here."

The league race is far from over, of course. Belleville still has to face four other rivals — Bentley, Dearborn, Allen Park and Trenton. Dearborn and Plymouth are the only teams who have beaten the Tigers in the first round, but Dearborn must play the rematch on the Tiger court.

What makes Niemi so optimistic about the ball club is that he has, he feels, the right combination of experience and youth on the team.

The nucleus of the club is made up of seniors Mel Abraham, Walt Easley, Ernie Thornsby — but there are a flock of juniors, seven of them to be exact: Dennis Easley, Norrell Turner, James Thompson, Jeff Hoeman, Randy Patterson, Wayne Ray, Dave Abraham, and Dave Scripser who have given the team the needed depth to be a winner.

And, before we start a revolution on the team by not mentioning the other members, let's also include players Tim Birk, Kaseem Cohen, Steve Leach, Kevin Edwards in the lineup.

Niemi, who hails from the Upper Peninsula, was an assistant coach at Negaunee before he decided to move to Livonia. For four years he served as assistant coach to Livonia Franklin coach Coach Bob Visser.

Last year Tom accepted the challenge to make a winner out of the Tigers. His first year ended in frustration and with a 5-15 over-all record.

If there were any doubts that the drought years are over or about ended at Belleville, they were shattered last night. Some people said Belleville needed a miracle to beat Plymouth whose giants — 6-foot-9½ Eric Agardy and 6-foot-8½ Jim Ellinghausen seemed too much for the Tigers whose tallest man stands 6-foot-2.

Apparently miracles can be made to happen. Ask Coach Niemi.

Tigers must beat Cherry Hill

Belleville eyes WW title

Belleville High swimmers and Coach Sam Vicchy have been there before and know what it takes to get there. The "there" is atop the prestigious Western Wayne Swimming & Diving throne. "I look for the meet to be a barnburner," said Vicchy, "after all, Cherry Hill beat us in dual meet competition and they'll be there. Also, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin also have respectable teams this season."

JOINING that field will be representatives from Garden City East, Garden City West, Robichaud, Inkster and Livonia Churchill.

year, isn't expected to be around when the championship trophy is presented on Saturday.

SATURDAY'S finals will begin at 7 p.m. at Westland John Glenn, site of last year's invitational.

Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski feels "that Belleville will be tough to stop."

"We beat them by a slim two point (87-85) margin," said Pawloski whose Spartans are coming off of an impressive victory at the 13th annual Garden City East Invitational.

"Our victory over Belleville was during the first or second week of the season and a lot has happened since then."

True, Belleville has compiled a perfect 5-0 Suburban 8 Conference record and has lost only one in 10 meets this season. The Tigers latest victims were Bentley's Bulldogs whom they dunked 108-62.

Romulus plans girls' softball expansion

An agreement for co-sponsoring the 1975 women's softball program in Romulus, tentatively scheduled to start in the first week of June, has been worked out by the Romulus Jaycees and the Romulus Recreation Commission.

The agreement marks the start of the third year of co-sponsorship by the two groups. The softball league started with eight teams in 1973 and grew to include 16 teams in 1974.

"BASED ON the enthusiasm and interest that has developed over the prior two years, we predict another super growth year for the league in 1975," said Jaycee president Phil McNett.

"In fact, it appears as though the women's league may even be bigger than the guys' league in 1975, at least as far as the participants," he added.

The league is open to any female over the age of 13, regardless of past experience, according to sponsors.

Training sessions are provided, offering newcomers the fundamentals of hitting, fielding and softball rules.

The Jaycees said the co-sponsorship has worked out "especially well" over the past two years. The Recreation Commission and the Jaycees have expressed an appreciation toward each other regarding past participation and successes.

THE JAYCEES also announced plans for an organizational meeting to be held Feb. 22 at the Romulus

High School Auditorium. Invitations have been mailed to past participants and new comers are encouraged to attend the 7 p.m. meeting.

In addition to planning the softball program, the

Romulus matmen bow to Pioneer

First year coaches have to remain optimistic, despite all adversities.

And Romulus High's rookie mat coach, Avern Logan, remains just that - optimistic - despite his team's 2-12 won-lost record.

"We're a young team," said Logan after his squad lost a 46-16 decision to Ann Arbor Pioneer, "there are five ninth graders in the lineup, so they're going to make mistakes."

"But I feel we have the nucleus of a fine team."

LOGAN, an assistant to former Romulus coach Jim Stallings, is a 1966 graduate of Romulus. He earned his bachelor's at Eastern Michigan University in 197. He also wrestled for the Hurons at the 123-pound class.

Belleville trip to first place is shortlived

Belleville's stay atop the Suburban 8 Conference basketball world was short-lived.

After a dramatic 66-59 victory over league-leading Plymouth Salem last Tuesday, Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers rode their roller-coaster down to second Friday night when they lost to a stubborn Livonia Bentley contingent, 64-59.

"It was too bad that we had to play our best game of the year (Plymouth) and the worst game of the year (Bentley) in one week's span," said Niemi. "It was disappointing to all of us. But, I guess that's what sports is all about."

IT ISN'T over yet for the Tigers. The three top teams, Salem, Dearborn and Belleville still have a combination of games between them: Dearborn has yet to play Salem and Belleville and anything can happen.

Obviously, the job of knocking off Plymouth will have to be done by someone else. And that takes the fate of the title out of Belleville's hand.

BEFORE a packed house last Tuesday, Belleville staged a second half rally that jolted Salem. The Tigers outscored their visitors 18-12 and 22-10 in the final two periods to post their eighth league victory.

SALEM played the role of champ in the first half as 6-10 Eric Agardy and 6-8½ Jim Ellinghausen led the Rocks to a 17-13 first period lead and a 37-26 halftime margin.

Then the Easley brothers - Walt and Dennis took over and pumped in six and five points respectively in the third period to cut the deficit to 49-44.

Belleville scored the first six points of the fourth period with Dennis getting four. Mel Abraham's 15-foot jump shot gave the Tigers the lead for the first time.

The two rivals exchanged baskets until Belleville built up a 58-53 edge with three minutes left. The Tigers iced it by realizing six of eight free throws in the final two minutes.

THREE Belleville players scored in double figures. The Easley brothers split 32 points between them while Abraham sank 15.

However, Agardy walked off the court with the game's scoring honors. He had 13 field goals and four free throws for 30 points. Ellinghausen made 20 points.

Belleville shot a hefty 18 of 23 from the free throw line but made 24 of 60 shots from the field for 40 percent.

Chiefs to meet MCC next

New Boston Huron cagers will never win a popularity contest in Grosse Ile, you can bet on that.

The reason is simple - Coach Lee Goodney's Chiefs toppled the Red Devils from first place last Friday, posting their first victory over their Huron Conference rivals since 1970.

"It was team basketball that did it," said Goodney, after the Chiefs walked off the home court with a 73-63 victory which boosted them into a two-way tie for fifth place (5-6) with Flat Rock. "When players play together, the results have to be positive," added the Huron coach.

THE VICTORY was also Huron's fifth in its last six starts. The Chiefs saw their four-game winning streak dissipate last Tuesday when Chelsea won a heart-stopper, 67-65, in double overtime. Huron leaped on the Islanders 17-9 in the first period thanks to a balanced attack. Though they held the lead at halftime, 39-27, they didn't put the game away until the final minute when four technical free throws iced it.

Keith Frazier sank two of the charities while Scott Bertin made one to give the Chiefs a seven point bulge with 42 seconds left in the game. That put the Chiefs out of reach.

But it was actually senior center Don Bennett's heroics at the free throw line in the last eight minutes that jolted the Red Devils. Bennett pumped in seven of 11 from the line to help his team keep a cushion.

Frazier had another extraordinary night from the field as he fired in eight field goals and 11 free throws for this team's high of 27 points. Supporting Frazier were Bertin, who had 21 points, Jeff Gill, with 10 as well as Bennett with 10.

The Chiefs also canned 23 of 47 free throws as compared to Grosse Ile's nine of 15.

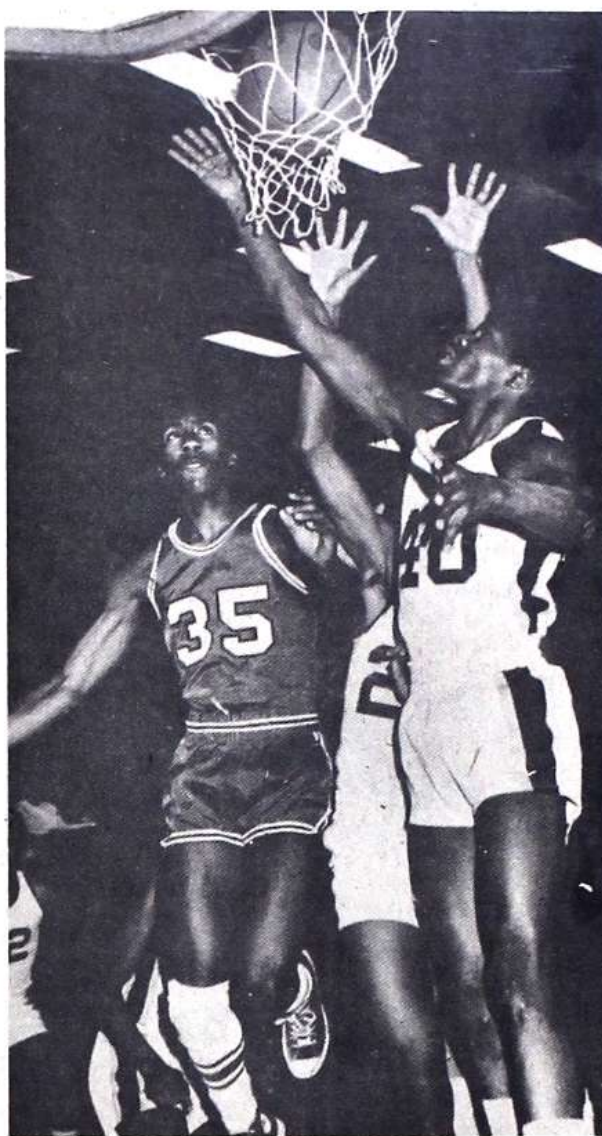

GROSSE ILE'S Terry Allen led all scorers with 28 points. Teammates Dave Gingrich and Cortis added 12 and 10 respectively.

THAT SETTLES IT — Watching the decisive basket slips through the hoop in Friday night's game are Robichaud's Mel Harris and Romulus cagers. The basket gave the Eagles a one point edge over the visiting Dearborn Heights quintet. "It was a good game to win," said Romulus Coach Jesse Meriweather. "It's about time the luck changed in our favor." Romulus has lost a couple of one-pointers this season.

South swimmers soar past Haston, 79-61

Bouncing back from its only dual meet loss of the season, the South swimming team trounced a tough Crestwood Haston squad, 79-61 Thursday afternoon.

Leading the way was triple winner Howard Renton. The freshman tanker led off the winning medley relay team, splitting a personal best of 29.9 in the backstroke. He then came back to set a team best of 1:04.5 for the 100 yard individual medley.

Howard finished off his winning ways in taking the 100 yard backstroke in 1:05.9.

YOUNGER brother Chris showed continued promise, going 30.5 in the 50 yard butterfly, placing second behind teammate Phil Berger.

HOWARD RENTON Just coming off an extreme bout with the flu, 8th grader Rusty Bearance placed first in the 200 yard freestyle at 2:07.9 with Chris Liedel taking second at 2:12.6.

Liedel repeated his fine performances in the 100 yard freestyle and part of the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Kevin Baisch and Larry DeRousse set personal bests in the 50 yard butterfly and the 100 yard breaststroke, respectively. Seventh grader Sandy Sienko split a 34.7 in the 50 yard freestyle and then returned in the 100 yard freestyle to go 1:20.9, both best times.

"We didn't swim really that well," said coach John Stosick. "Most of the kids are looking towards our meet against North on the 18th. Our freshmen have the edge over North, but the 7th and 8th grade squad will have a bit more trouble. It'll be a good meet."

The Tigers will entertain Northville at home Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 in their final tune up for the annual North-South confrontation.

Girls in the world of sports: There were some 322 young wrestlers, ranging from six-years old to 17, who showed up at Schoolcraft College over the weekend to compete in an AAU sanctioned wrestling meet.

And you could have heard a pin drop when Pat McNaughton, a six-year-old, good-looking kid, approached the scales for the official weigh-in.

The officials gave the participant a quick once-over, then called for a quick meeting. You could hear "no" and "yes" come out of the corner. Then the officials-broke up.

"O.K., Pat, get on the scales," one official finally announced. Pat put her tiny feet on the scale and got the approval, then she retreated.

Yes, she retreated to talk to her coach.

Little Patricia McNaughton, at the age of six, has decided to become a wrestler, so she has joined the Ann Arbor Wrestling Club. She, pigtailed and all, competed in her first big meet Saturday and won five matches before finishing in third place.

"She stole the hearts of the officials and fans," related Chuck West, a Wayne councilman who also is one of the coaches of the newly organized Spartan Wrestling Club. The club practices out of the local YMCA.

"That little girl has a lot of guts," continued West, "You should have seen her out there."

Wayne-Westland wrestlers won five medals. They were awarded to Joe Glass, second in the 120-pound class for 11-12 year olds; Keith Zimmerman, who was first in the division; Ron Paciocco, a third place finisher in the 9-10, 75-pound class, Joel Felan, third in the 9-10 age group, 50-pound category and Dave West, Chuck's son who also was third in the 55-pound class, eight and under.

"Do you know that the Wayne wrestlers and wrestlettes ran the tables and officiated some of the matches," added West, "when you get kids to volunteer their time and services, well that's really something in these times."

"They should be commended."

West pointed out that the Spartan Wrestling Club is "growing by leaps and bounds," that 75 youngsters already have registered.

He said anyone interested in joining the club should call the local "Y" at 721-7044.

MEANWHILE, PRETTY Sally Klebba, a swimmer for Riverside High School in Dearborn Heights, could possibly become the first girl ever to swim in a boys' Class B state finals.

Ms. Klebba and Coach Jeff Huxley are working toward that end. The young lass proved she has the ability to compete against her male counterparts by stroking a 5:27 for the 500-yard freestyle.

The state Class B qualifying time for the event is 5:25. Who said the gals aren't taking over the sports pages?

DRC ready for racing

Livonia, Mich.—The $100,000 Michigan Mile and One Eighth, Michigan's premier thoroughbred classic, will be raced at Detroit Race Course on Saturday, June 21, racing secretary Tom Dorsey has announced.

It will be the 27th running of the "Mile", which again will be the headline event in a 120 day DRC race season which opens Friday, February 21. The purse of $100,000 is guaranteed and is expected to again attract distance stars, 3-years-old and up, from all parts of the country.

TOM TULLE beat Rastafarian by 2 1/2 lengths in the 1974 running of Michigan's richest horse race.

Dorsey also released the dates and approximate purses for three rich Michigan bred stakes annually raced at the big Livonia mile track. Included is the Michigan Futurity, a mile test for 2-year-olds which is scheduled for Saturday, July 13, final day of the DRC meeting. Dorsey said the anticipated purse of $50,000 will be a new record for the juvenile event.

The Frontier Handicap, with a purse of $40,000, is carded for Saturday, June 7, while the Dowling Memorial, also worth $40,000, has been set for Saturday, June 28. The Frontier is for Michigan-bred 3-year-olds and up, while the Dowling is restricted to homebred 3-year-olds.

2:02.4 in beating teammate Jeff Fogarty (2:03.0) to the finish of the 200-yard freestyle. He also posted a 54.9 in winning the 100-yard freestyle.

Belleville's Dave Barber shaved off a couple of seconds in the 500-yard freestyle to set a Tiger record for the event at 5:18.8.

Belleville also dumped North Farmington in an out of conference meet, 91-81 last Tuesday. North, though, had eight of the 11 first places. Mark Stoleton won the 50-yard freestyle (24.0), Arlo Liebler, the diving (254.80) and Paul Wanshon, the breaststroke (1:10.0) for the Tigers.

IF BELLEVILLE is to extend its conference winning streak tomorrow it will have to do so at the expense of state power, Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The two undefeated teams clash in Belleville at 7 p.m. and here's what Vicchy had to say about the matchup: "Edsel has another fine, well-coached team and our swimmers will have to perform at their best to even make it close."

Lake debris causes hazard

Residents of the City of Belleville and Van Buren Township, especially those living on the shores of Belleville Lake, have been requested not to throw debris into the 6-mile long lake.

Dave Wertz, caretaker of the French Landing Dam located at the eastern end of the lake, cautioned area residents and users of the lake, Wayne County's largest inland lake, not to throw debris into the lake as it damages screens installed at the dam.

There have been incidents where debris was caught in the screens and Wertz said "it is a very hazardous job to remove."

Belleville Lake, initially named Edison Lake, was created in the late '20s by the Detroit Edison Co.

The firm dammed-up the nearby Huron River to provide the community with electrical power.

SUCCESS STORY — Large dumpsters, like the one in the background above, are popular in Romulus as disposal sites for rubbish not collected during regular city collections. The trash containers situated throughout the city have become so popular, in fact, that the city has had to erect signs nearby to urge "residents' only" use of the containers. — The Enterprise Roman photo.

Are you one of the 40 million people who will retire without a pension?

Now there's good news from NBD. If you have no employer-sponsored retirement plan, read how we can help you take advantage of a new tax shelter to create a substantial retirement income for yourself.

Under a new federal law, millions of wage and salary earners can now set aside as much as $1500 of tax-free income annually for their retirement.

To help you take maximum advantage of this new tax shelter, National Bank of Detroit now offers Individual Retirement Accounts—special savings accounts that can multiply a surprisingly modest investment into a substantial retirement nestegg.

A double tax savings.

The boon of an NBD Individual Retirement Account is that both the money you put into it, and the interest your money earns while on deposit, are tax exempt until the time of withdrawal.

This means you can take a tax deduction on the amount deposited into your IRA each year, allow the earnings to accumulate tax-free, then withdraw your money when you retire and are more likely to be in a lower tax bracket.

As you can see from our chart, this can mean a spectacular savings compared to an ordinary savings account.

End of Year	Example 1	Example 2	Example 3
1	$1,500	$1,125	$750
5	$8,456	$6,155	$3,982
10	$19,771	$13,824	$8,598
15	$34,914	$23,382	$13,949
20	$55,178	$35,293	$20,153
25	$82,297	$50,136	$27,344
30	$118,587	$68,633	$35,682

Example 1: $1500 of tax-free income put into an IRA each year. Example 2: A person in the 25% tax bracket puts what's left of $1500 each year, after taxes, into an ordinary savings account on which the interest is taxed. Example 3: Same as Example 2, except the individual is in the 50% tax bracket. All figures computed on a conservative 6% annual interest.

Who qualifies.

Anyone who is not now covered by an employer-sponsored retirement plan, may open an Individual Retirement Account at NBD.

15% of your income tax-free.

By new law, you may put away as much as 15% of your annual earned income—up to a maximum of $1500—into an IRA. This means that you can choose any of our NBD savings plans that best suits your needs. Our Time Deposits, for example, earn you a full 5-1/2% interest, are automatically renewable, and may be started with as little as $50.

For the maximum possible return on your investment, however, you should look into our Investment Savings Certificates that are guaranteed to earn you a full 7-1/2% interest over six years in amounts of $1000 or more. (By contrast, our chart is figured on a conservative 6% annual interest).

However—there is a substantial interest penalty for withdrawal before maturity.

Your money is safe—and available.

When you build a retirement income through an Individual Retirement Account at NBD, your money is protected by the federal government, and backed by the substantial assets of Michigan's biggest bank.

Act now.

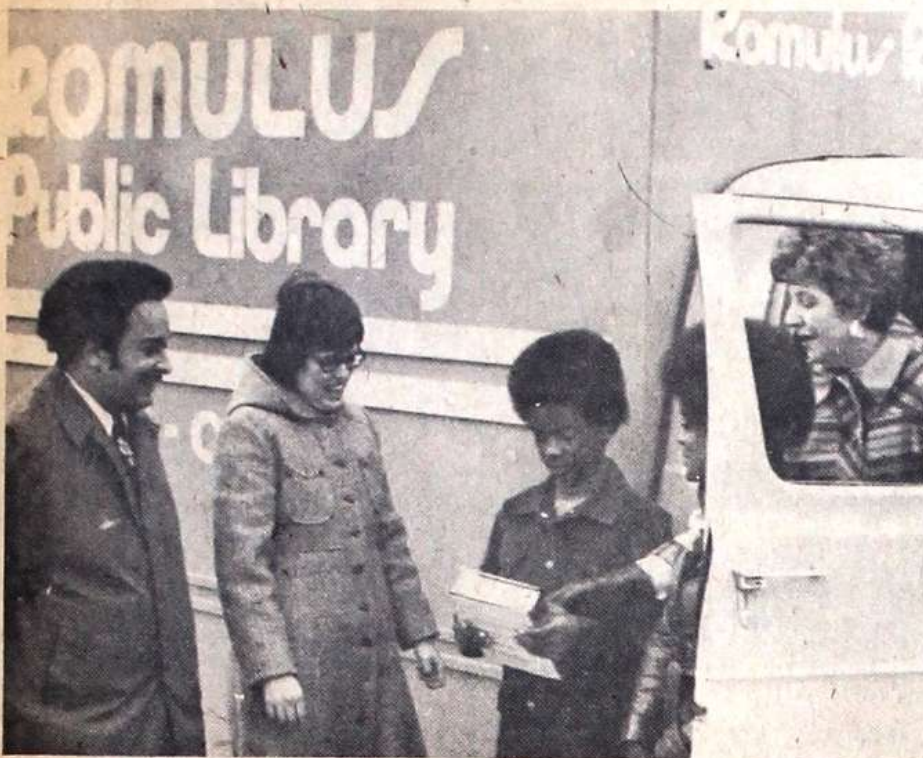

There has never been a better time to begin providing for a comfortable retirement than right now.

Interest rates at NBD have never been higher. And now you can put this higher interest to work for you with tax-free dollars.

Why not look into an Individual Retirement Account today? The officer at your nearby NBD office will be happy to help.

A NOTE TO EMPLOYERS: IRA may be an ideal way for you to offer your employees the benefits of a retirement program without the headaches of bookkeeping and administration. Our NBD officers will be happy to assist.

NBD Making banking better for you.

Adjudication hearing set on annexation bid

An adjudication hearing on a requested annexation to the City of Belleville of a 41-acre land parcel located in Van Buren Township is being held today before the Michigan State Boundary Commission in Lansing.

The 3-member commission has been considering additional testimony taken at its supplementary hearing last September on the proposed annexation.

In addition, written information supporting the township's objections to the annexation also is under consideration.

Representing the township at the meeting will be township attorney John Axe and Township Clerk Patricia Cullin.

The annexation petition was filed by Seligman Associates of Southfield. It involves acreage on Huron River Drive west of Belleville High School and the administration office of the Van Buren Public School District.

The requested annexation has prompted strenuous objections from township officials and has become a point of controversy between the city and the township.

The commission has several options in the adjudication hearing. It can deny the petition, approve it as submitted or approve it with boundary adjustments, officials said.

THE SINGING LANDMARKS—A concert by The Singing Landmarks, active members of the Landmark Baptist Temple of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be presented at 6 p.m., Sunday, at the Bethany Baptist Church of Belleville, located at 810 E. Huron River Dr. The hour-long concert is open to the public. The Singing Landmarks have performed for a large variety of church groups, gospel sings, radio and television programs in several midwestern states.

Localite flies to Kuwait

A Tennessee walking horse, as American as hot dogs and apple pie, recently left the Harper Creek Stables near Battle Creek for its new home at the Salmia Palace in Kuwait, one of the Middle East's oil-rich countries.

The horse has been purchased by Sheikh Ali F. Al Sallim AlSabah, a nephew of Kuwait's ruler Emir Sheikh Sabah as Salim as-Sabah.

Accompanying the horse on its trip from Battle Creek to John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York City and then aboard a jet for the 5-day trip to the Middle East is trainer A. A. Schuchmann of 16280 Bak Road, Belleville.

Schuchmann, whose brother, C. E. Schuchmann, is a long-time friend of the 28-year-old sheik, believes the horse will be the first Tennessee walker to be shipped to the Eastern Hemisphere. The price paid for the horse was not disclosed.

The sheik became acquainted with C. E. Schuchmann, a National Farm Organization official, while a student at Upper Iowa University at Fayette.

Approximately eight years after the visit, when the sheik wanted to buy a Tennessee walking horse, he contacted his college friend who passed along the information to his brother, a horseman and owner of two Tennessee walkers.

The selection of the horse was made by David Kranich of Battle Creek, one of two fulltime trainers of Tennessee walkers in Michigan.

Kranich at Schuchmann's request screened many horses throughout Tennessee to find one to meet the sheik's exacting specifications.

The horse had to be black, a stallion well-trained and gentle with perfect confirmation. Kranich found the horse he was seeking at the Walker Hackney Stables in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

His name is Shaker's Pride C by Mac K's Handshaker, the son and brother of world champions. He has been a show winner in the South and placed seventh in a 70-horse competition in the amateur division at the 1974 Tennessee Walker Horse Celebration at Shelbyville, Tenn., according to trainer Schuchmann.

Since arriving in Michigan, the horse has been kept in shape by Kranich, who is described by Schuchmann as one of the country's best Tennessee walker trainers.

The Tennessee walker is an easy-gaited saddle horse of Standardbred and Morgan ancestry. The smooth riding gait, accented by the nod of the head with each step, distinguishes it from other saddle horses.

On the horse's departure from Kennedy Airport Jan. 31, he was placed in an astrobox stall, complete with canvas roof and then lifted into the jet freighter.

IDC schedules plant seminar

A seminar to explain how local industry in the Belleville, Van Buren Township and Ypsilanti area may take advantage of the law for plant modernization or new plant construction will be held at the Ypsilanti Township Hall on Friday.

The informational seminar on Michigan's new Plant Rehabilitation and Industrial Development District Law is being held under the sponsorship of the Ypsilanti Industrial Development Corp. (IDC). The seminar will open at 9:30 a.m. and close at 11:45 a.m.

The new law grants a 12-year freeze on local tax assessments to business and industry to encourage expansion and modernization.

It also allows local governments to set up plant rehabilitation districts and industrial development districts.

Ben R. Robertson, director of Van Buren Township's Community Development Department, has extended an invitation to land and plant developers interested in a Van Buren Township location to attend the seminar.

Family medical center opens

Sumpter Township area residents now have available the facilities of a new and permanent family medical center for outpatient care. Operated by Oakwood General Hospital of Dearborn, the new Everett W. Durham Sumpter Family Medical Center will provide Sumpter Township families with outpatient treatment by family practice resident physicians under the supervision of qualified family practitioners, said Neil McGinnis, director of Oakwood Hospital.

The new medical center, located at 19130 Sumpter Road, replaces the temporary facility housed in two connecting mobile homes at 24560 Sumpter Road, south of the new structure which during its three years of operations was known as the Sumpter Family Practice Center.

With the opening at its new location, the center has been renamed in memory of Dr. Everett W. Durham, who had been director of medical education at Oakwood Hospital and was instrumental in establishing the 6,500 square foot medical facility. Dr. Durham died on Nov. 16, 1974.

The new medical structure occupies a 10-acre land parcel. Its construction was financed by a Kresge Foundation grant of $225,000 received by Oakwood Hospital.

The 1-story facility has available 21 examination and consultation rooms and will provide no patient beds.

Trustees support bid to call county 'urban'

A Wayne County resolution to have the county designated an 'urban area' to qualify it for community development funds under the U.S. Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 has received the support of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

Action by the township trustees means the township will now be eligible to participate in the federal program should the county resolution be approved.

In other recent matters, the trustees:

- Approved the acceptance of a bid of $3,520 from Atchinson Ford Sales, Inc., of 9800 Belleville Road for a new pickup truck for the township's dog warden.
- Approved a contract with the Wayne County Road Commission for dust palliative treatment of township gravel roads.
- Granted approval to easement requests filed by the developers of the proposed Big Boy Restaurant on Belleville Road and the Republic Development Corp. development located near the Van Buren Estates Subdivision.
- Reinstated Joseph Mathews to the township police force. Mathews had left the police department but requested permission to return.
- Granted a request made by former township official Ralph Hedman to use a public building (Belleville Lake Dam house) for the storage of articles by the Kiwanis and Goodfellows.

PLATES PRESENTED—Mrs. Carroll E. Miller, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with which the Belleville Women's Study Club and Junior Study Club are affiliated, presents the third in a series of four Bicentennial Plates to Reed Harris, president of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa.

Bicentennial plates promoted by Federation of Women's Clubs

Mrs. Carroll E. Miller, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with which the Belleville Women's Study Club and Junior Study Club are affiliated, has announced that a collection of the GFWC official U. S. Bicentennial plates has been accepted for permanent display at the historic Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa.

A presentation took place recently at Valley Forge on the same site where George Washington and his troops spent the bitter winter of 1777-1778. Mrs. Miller presented to Reed Harris, president of Freedoms Foundation, the collection of handmade glass plates designed to commemorate the nation's 200th birthday. Three plates were accepted for permanent display and the fourth and final plate will be presented in 1976.

Three years ago, in an effort to celebrate the nation's bicentennial and to rekindle the wondrous "Spirit of '76," the GFWC commissioned an American artist to sculpture in glass a series of four collector's plates which will in their entirety depict a complete and moving "Portrait of Liberty."

Each plate in the series features a scene depicting one of the four major movements of the American Revolution and one was to be released each year on January 1, for the four consecutive years preceding the actual bicentennial celebration: 1973—"The Seeds are Sown"—Patrick Henry addresses the Virginia Convention; 1974—"Independence is Declared"—Thomas Jefferson drafts the Declaration of Independence; 1975—"A Test of Courage"—Washington prays at Valley Forge; 1976—"Liberty is Proclaimed"—three new Americans ring the Liberty Bell. The beautiful handmade commemorative collection is being designed and produced by the Fenton Art Glass Company at Williamstown, W. Va.

On July 4, 1976, a final ceremony will take place at Independence Hall at which all the molds for these plates will be publicly destroyed, thereby creating a limited edition. This means that not only will the plates become treasured heirlooms with great personal value, but their market value is sure to increase as well.

The Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) held its monthly dinner meeting Feb. 3 at South Junior High School. Twenty-six members and five guests, Dorothy Arthur, Frances Harris, Rose Gratoski, Jennie Barrie and Audrey Jackson, attended. Table decorations in pink and white carried out the Valentine theme.

The program concerned the foundation of the BPW Club and was planned by the foundation committee, Aldine Potter Bea Boldt, Mary Hoff and Betty Savage, who were assisted by Ruth Davis and Alice Atwell. The group presented a skit relating to the club's formation which pointed out that as the foundation grows it continues to serve the public and becomes an increasingly important resource for all employed women. Today the foundation's facilities are used by educational institutions, business and professional organizations, governmental departments, publications, researchers and private individuals. January 1, 1975, was the beginning of international Women's Year.

Seems to be true in our area, too— those wedding bells aren't a-pealing

By LEESMITH
Suburban Living Editor

If you dote on statistics and comparisons of the past 12 months with previous years, this is for you. If you don't care for that line of reading (and especially if it deals with data on weddings and other nuptial-type information) then stop right here.

We're told quite regularly (via the media) that young people are just not taking that traditional trek to the altar as they once did. And national statistics bear out their claims as poll after poll is taken and research done through, the matrimonial bureaus.

Since we're not a business dealing primarily with statistics, we don't keep a lot of unnecessary records. But this reporter does keep a listing of engagement announcements and subsequent weddings so, that much info we can offer you.

IF OUR jottings are any sort of barometer, they DO bear out the nation wide claim that fewer young people are signing their names to marriage licenses. Checking back to 1972 The Enterprise and Roman announced 184 engagements as compared to a dip of 135 in 1973 and only 119 last year. Of those same couples, 87 reported their marriages in '72; 81 the following year and only 60 the past season.

A few more items we have in our book reveal that June, August and November were most favored for the bridal month all three years while January scored a low 12th. Weddings primarily took place in churches but we had a few off-beat ceremonies held in meadows, parks, boats and alongside ponds and lakes. And even though the setting was not particularly traditional, bridal regalia was. In most instances, women preferred to be married in full-length white gowns complete with flowing veils and a bevy of bridesmaids.

The Edwardian look for the bridegroom prevailed with the ruffled shirt very much "in" — the trim often matching the color scheme of the wedding.

AND SINCE we don't keep track of births reported over the years, we can't tell you what name came in first for infants in 1974. But we DO list those betrothals, so we're able to furnish a little light in the arena of most popular bride's and groom's names.

For instance in the year '73, William, Larry and Robert appeared in more area bridal announcements than any other male moniker. The year before it was Richard (Rick, Dick, Ricky) who tied with Robert and James for husbandry honors.

And last year it was good, solid-sounding "John" who led the list of candidates for bridegroomhood while we tallied only one Mary (and that was spelled M-a-r-i.) Incidentally, Mary fell way, way behind the previous two years as well. (I wonder what's become of Mary...?)

In 1972 derivatives of Katherine (Kathy, Kay, Kate, Kathleen) ran up a whopping big score. But then came 1973 and '74 when Deborah came on the scene and walked away with honors for the M.R.S. certificate both years.

And of the handful of pending weddings we have recorded thus far this year, would you believe those Debbie's are again leading the march to the altar?

We'd say, fellas, if you're in a marryin' mood, find yourself a Deborah. If you're strictly zilch on the subject, well—check that little black book again.

Michener, Forsyth, Kerr works among new listings at libraries

This week's listings offer the pen of several leading American novelists — Kerr, Gallico, Forsyth, Eden and Michener — and cover a variety of topics. Jean Kerr's fiction has a light romantic touch while Dorothy Eden's Victorian novel deals with romance in a poor-little-rich-girl manner set in a sad and tragic mood. Paul Gallico deals with intrigue and Frederick Forsyth with a coup d'etat in West Africa.

Then there are the biographies of two presidents, that of the current leader Gerald Ford, and also former Republican head Dwight D. Eisenhower, for those who dote on life stories.

Bishop Fulton Sheen's book leads the non-fiction selections this week with blacksmithing and horseshoeing and a cookbook in the 'Round the World series also available.

Those are just the current arrivals but, of course, there are thousands of other books which fill every type of preference and every kind of reference. Take a trip to either the Belleville or Romulus library and see for yourself what's on the shelves. A good book, a cozy fire, a cup of tea — an ideal way to spend a winter evening. And, just in case there's another snow storm, you'll be fortified with reading material which can help pass many hours of being shut in.

ROMULUS LIBRARY
11121 Wayne Road

FICTION

"Finishing Touches" by Jean Kerr. A romantic comedy about a middle-aged university professor who comes down with the seven-year-itch, scratches it briefly, and then returns to the somewhat sagging bosom of wife and family.

murderer and is held hostage by a grenade-toting psychopath.

NON-FICTION

"Those Mysterious Priests" by Fulton J. Sheen. Bishop Sheen presents his views on the dual nature of the priesthood, with the individual assuming the roles of both priest and victim.

"Round the World Cooking Library: Dutch and Belgian Cooking" by Heleen A. M. Halverhout. Traditional dishes from the Low Countries with Dutch and Belgian cookery featured.

BIOGRAPHY

Say 'be mine' with food

Make Valentine's Day tasty

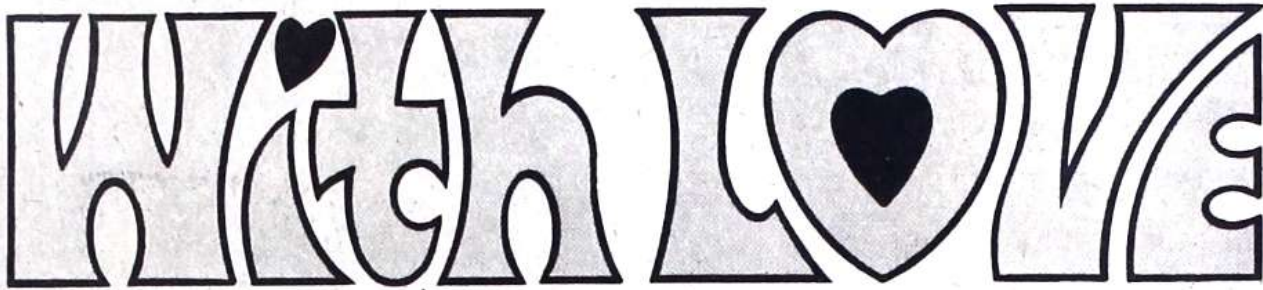

The Valentine's Day custom was brought to America by the settlers who said "I love you" with marshmallows, roundels and sugarplums.

The present day custom of giving heart-shaped boxes of candy, funny or romantic cards need not be similar each year.

Western Wayne County residents looking for something to jazz up their annual "I love you" should consider an evening of candlelight and a special meal for that extra touch.

As prelude to the evening's festivities serve up cups of Valentine tea punch before bringing out the gourmet chicken divan and a torte for dessert.

It's a meal that's guaranteed to get a "be mine" to last a lifetime.

VALENTINE TEA PUNCH

4 tablespoon instant tea
8 cups cold water
1/2 cup grenadine syrup
1 6-oz. can frozen pink lemonade concentrate, undiluted
1 four-fifths quart bottle rose wine, chilled
1/2 cup orange flavor liqueur (optional)
1/2 cup superfine sugar
1 quart lemon-lime carbonate beverage, chilled.

Add instant tea to water; stir until dissolved. Mix in grenadine, lemonade, wine, liqueur and sugar. Chill until ready to serve. Pour into punch bowl; add carbonated beverage and ice mold. Makes about 4 1/2 quarts.

STRAWBERRY ICE MOLD: Pour cold water into heart shaped mold almost to the top. Freeze until solid. Barely cover surface with more cold water and arrange 1 cup sliced strawberries in pretty pattern. (If frozen berries are used, thaw, drain and add syrup to punch.) Return mold to freezer. When berries are frozen in place, add a little more water. Keep in freezer. Unmold by dipping in water. Remove ice carefully and place in punch bowl when ready to serve.

CRANBERRY FREEZE
1 16-oz. can whole cranberry sauce

1 8 1/2 oz. can crushed pineapple, drained

1/2 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
Combine cranberry sauce and pineapple. Whip cream to form stiff peaks; carefully fold into cranberry-pineapple mixture. Add walnuts. Line a 9 by 9-inch pan with foil; pour in cranberry mixture. Freeze until firm. Remove from pan and cut into wedges. Or pour into eight individual molds. Freeze until firm. Unmold. Serves eight.

TIP: For an easy garnish, cut heart shapes from jellied cranberry sauce to garnish top of salad.

GOURMET CHICKEN DIVAN

4 whole chicken breasts.
3 12 oz. packages frozen long grain white and wild rice

3 10 oz. packages young broccoli spears frozen in cheese sauce

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups chicken broth
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon marjoram, crushed
1 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon

One 2 1/2 oz. jar whole or sliced mushrooms, drained
Parmesan cheese
4 tablespoons flour
1 1/4 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
One 2-oz. jar pimiento, drained and diced
1 1/2 cups shredded cheddar cheese

1/4 tablespoons' grated Parmesan cheese
Place chicken in large kettle; cover with water and season with salt and pepper. Bring to a boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 1 to 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Remove chicken from the broth, reserving the broth; cook, skim, bone and split each breast.

Meanwhile, cook rice and broccoli according to package directions only until thoroughly thawed. Melt butter in small saucepan; stir in flour until smooth. Add broth gradually, stirring constantly, until smooth. Stir in salt, pepper and marjoram. Heat slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened.

In a 2 1/2 quart shallow baking dish, combine broth mixture, bouillon, rice and mushrooms; spread evenly over bottom of dish. Split broccoli pouches and drain butter sauce into small saucepan; serve for creamy cheese sauce. Carefully place broccoli spears atop the rice. Arrange the chicken breasts atop the broccoli. Top with 1/2 of the creamy cheese sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve with remaining sauce.

CREAMY CHEESE SAUCE: Add flour to butter from broccoli pouches; stir until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly, until smooth. Add salt and pepper. Heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Add pimiento, cheddar cheese and Parmesan cheese; stir until cheese is melted. Serves six to eight.

Serve up a tempter: Orange coeur dessert

Here's a dessert that's sure to please.

Orange Coeur a la Creme is just the dish, an elegant molded dessert of delicate cheeses and cream, accented with pure, natural orange flavor. Coeur a la Creme is a classic with French gourmets, and you and your guests will see why with the first mouthful.

Orange Coeur a la Creme is made in just a few steps, but since it requires refrigeration overnight, start preparation at least the day before you plan to serve it.

This smooth, firm cream begins as a blend of pot cheese, cream cheese and whipped heavy cream. Then comes a superb flavor attraction, frozen orange juice concentrate, that adds a tart, fresh taste. Vanilla, coconut and grated orange rind give added flavor and pleasing texture.

The mixture is then placed in a colander lined with cheesecloth and allowed to drain overnight. The next day, the cheese blend is placed into a mold, lined with cheesecloth, and then chilled.

After the dish is unmolded, it is served with a lovely fresh Orange Sauce. The sauce is just fabulous with fresh orange sections, and so quick and easy to make.

ORANGE COEUR A LA CREME

1 pound pot cheese
1 package (8 ozs.) cream cheese, softened
1 cup heavy cream
1/4 cup frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 can (3 1/2 ozs.) flaked coconut
2 tablespoons grated orange rind

Beat pot cheese until smooth. Add cream cheese and blend well. Whip heavy cream and fold into cheese. Add undiluted orange concentrate, vanilla, coconut and grated orange rind and mix well. Place the cheese mixture in a colander lined with cheesecloth; place over a bowl and drain overnight in refrigerator. Next day, pack the mixture in a mold lined with cheesecloth and chill

Custard is nutritious; Brightens any meal

If you're a Western Wayne County homemaker who's interested in feeding your family right, you'll want to add these tasty custard recipes to your collection. The basic ingredients of eggs and milk supply high quality protein along with calcium, iron, vitamin A and riboflavin.

Realizing that young appetites don't always like what's good for them, the Advisory Council for Jams, Jellies and Preserves created recipes with youngsters in mind. Delicately flavored custards are more inviting when they are generously swirled and layered with the concentrated fruit flavor of jams and preserves.

These three recipes for custards use a variety of fruit flavors. A thin layer of preserves between the crust and filling gives a distinctive orange flavor to the custard pie. After cooking is complete, the stirred custard is swirled with rich grape jam and poured into parfait or dessert dishes. A dainty garnish of candied violets or grated lemon rind gives it until ready to serve. Unmold on plate, remove cheesecloth, and serve with Orange Sauce.

YIELDS eight servings.
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3/4 cup reconstituted frozen concentrated orange juice

2 cups orange sections
Mix sugar and cornstarch in a small saucepan. Stir in orange juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Simmer one minute. Cool. Stir in orange sections.

1 tablespoon sugar
one-eighth teaspoon ground cinnamon whipped cream
extra orange marmalade

Combine eggs, milk, sugar, salt, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, orange peel and vanilla extract; stir until smooth and well blended. Spoon orange marmalade into pastry shell and spread evenly. Slowly pour egg mixture into pie shell. Combine remaining 1 tablespoon sugar and one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon. Sprinkle on top of pie.

Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce oven to 350 degrees and bake about 30 minutes or until knife inserted into filling about 1-inch from edge of pastry comes out clean. Remove from oven and cool. To garnish drop mounds of whipped cream on pie and drizzle with extra preserves.

ORANGE CUSTARD PIE

4 whole eggs, beaten
2 two-thirds cups milk
two-thirds cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
one-third cup orange marmalade (peach preserve may be substituted)

To assessments

Parking lot funding may change

The operation and maintenance of Belleville's two municipal parking lots may be financed by special assessments instead of by funds from the city's general operating budget.

The city's two parking lots are located in the central business district, one on the west side of Main Street between Fourth and Roys Street and the other on the east side of Main Street in the rear of businesses.

The question of financing the operation and maintenance of the parking lots by the special assessment route was discussed at a meeting called by the City Council to discuss and present proposals for operating and servicing the two lots.

Following the meeting held in the City Council chambers Jan. 30, city officials instructed City Attorney B. Ward Smith to check into the legal aspects of various special assessment methods available and report back to the council.

The purchase by the city of the two parking lots was made with funds from a bond issue in 1955 and paid off in 1967, Smith said.

The parking meters were installed in the two parking lots and along both sides of Main Street to help pay off the revenue bond issue.

The parking meters eventually were removed at the request of downtown merchants who wanted them taken out to stimulate business.

Following the removal program, downtown merchants assisted the city in paying off the revenue bond issue.

Mayor Ellis Amerman said complaints have been received from city residents about tax revenue being used by the city to operate and maintain the parking sites.

CHARRED REMAINS — Bearing little resemblance to the warehouse it once was, this scorched rubble at 30105 Beverly Road in Romulus shows the results of a chemical fire that raged through the building recently, doing an estimated $185,000 damage to three firms housed inside. Local and state fire inspectors are continuing an investigation into the cause of the blaze, and reportedly still have not ruled out arson as the cause. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

Rec programs start Friday

The Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Department is offering various "special" recreational programs beginning Friday and continuing through March 29.

The special programs will be held at the Van Buren Township Hall on various scheduled Saturdays, said Jeffery G. Clark, recreation director.

Included in these programs are arts and crafts for adults, Saturday film matinees for children, a

Moms and Tots Dance clinic, emergency first aid, spring fashion show, senior citizens card tournament and a physical fitness program entitled "Body Clinic."

Clark added that the department's "mini-ecology" program for school children and cardio-pulmonary resuscitation for requested group demonstrations have attracted area interest beyond initial expectations.

The Artificial Resuscitation and Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation

Squad of the department so far has presented eight group demonstrations on how to perform artificial resuscitation in an emergency.

The mini-ecology program, which consists of a series of lectures in ecology, is becoming popular among students attending Van Buren Public Schools, Clark added.

He said that the Recreation Department has on file 18 requests for the mini-ecology lectures that involve such topics as water cycles, food webs, pollution and wildlife.

Another program becoming popular among elementary students is the department's creative dance series supervised by Maxie Haase, Clark added.

He also said the Belleville Community Players now is part of the Township's Recreation Department operation.

Interested persons seeking additional information are asked to contact Clark at 699-2001.

4 marchers win medals

Four students who are members of the Romulus Senior High School Marching and Symphonic Bands won first division medals at the recent Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association District Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The winners of first division medals were Janet Milatz, Andy Orgovan, Faith

Sheptoski and Sheryl Kaiser. They now will compete in the state solo and ensemble competition on March 22.

In addition, the high school's symphonic band will participate in the Michigan District Band Festival on March 1, according to Ralph Miller, band director.

Miller added that the high school marching and symphonic bands have been very busy since the start of the current school year. Both bands have participated in several activities.

The marching band has performed at several of the home football games this season and on Dec. 12 the annual winter band concert was held.

The marching band traveled to Belleville where it marched in the city's annual Christmas parade and performed a dance routine in front of the judges' reviewing stand located near the end of the parade.

Miller added that the high school bands will present a spring concert later in the school year. The date of the concert will be announced later.

JAIL DISCUSSION — Wayne County Commissioners trying to get state aid to construct a new county jail met with legislators this week during the recent annual conference of the new Michigan Association of Counties (MAC) in Lansing to solicit individual support. Shown at the MAC meeting are: (From left) vice-chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights); Matthew McNeely (D-Ecorse) speaker pro-tem of the House of Representatives; Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth); Sen. Dave Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights); Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-Belleville); Sen. Patrick H. McCollough (D-Dearborn); Rep. Thomas H. Brown (D-Westland); and Chairman of the county board, Roscoe L. Bobo.

County road crews start causeway work

The long-awaited causeway widening program near the Belleville Road and Denton Road bridges at Belleville Lake got under way this week. Crews from the Wayne County Road Commission last week began preliminary work on the program. Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer in commenting on the project said the start of the program does not mean the roads are about to be widened.

"What it does mean is that broken concrete from the old traffic strips of I-94 will be placed where it will do the most good in the future," he said.

The township has been pushing for this project ever since the causeway weakness was highlighted during the September 1973 fish kill and lake lowering, the supervisor added.

The Road Commission preferred to take charge of the placement of the concrete and that project does include a wider road at some future time, Gollwitzer said.

Gollwitzer added that present plans are to bring the fill up to within six feet of the top of the present road, well above the water. The remaining fill would be part of the road building project when that is done.

Center social workers are on college faculty

The two full-time social workers at the Romulus Help Center, a center for substance abuse treatment and counseling, actually are faculty field instructors from Wayne State University and the University of Michigan (U. of M.).

Len Melnick, the center's director since its "birth" 1 1/2 years ago, is a product of the Wayne State School of Social Work and specializes in substance abuse treatment at the center.

He is a faculty field instructor for both Wayne State and U. of M.

Naomi Pinchuk, who deals in child psychology and family service work, also represents both universities. She has a master of social work degree from the University of Kansas.

Melnick, who said the Help Center on Goddard Road just east of Wayne Road is a "training center" for the universities, is a commissioned officer of the U.S. Public Health Service. He has done psychological treatment with inmates at a Missouri prison.

Melnick said several graduate students from the colleges, including Eastern Michigan University, work at the help center and receive credits toward their graduate degrees in social work.
